AN ADMIRABLE NOVEL

DOMESTIC LIFE.

DOMESTIC LIFE.

Of late years a new and wholesome tendency has appeared in French imaginative literature. A class of writers have appeared, who, instead of appealing to morbid passions and demanded and appeared tastes, have gained a reputation by depleting the pure and healthy emotions of the heart, by developing the charms of genial as d symmetrical characters, and by exhibiting men and women mobily triumphing over adverse circumstances and social less plations.

Of his new school of writers, two conspicuous examples are found in the works of Emile Souvestre and Octave Faull.ex.
The former has already been extensively translated into English, and is not unknown in this country. The latter we propose to introduce to the readers of This Tribuks, by a spirited version of his

"ROMANCE OF A POOR YOUNG MAN," which has recently appeared in Paris, and has been hailed by both Fren h and Euglish critics as perhaps the most striking and admirable work of fiction that appeared in any country furing the year 1858. Indeed, since "Jane Eyre" martled the movel tradeling world, we hardly remember another production of the kind which, for beauty and interest, can be compared with the c with this.

The publication of "THE ROMANCE OF A POOR YOUNG MAN" is commenced in THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE of this week, and will be regularly continued until is completed.

Newsmen will please send in their orders immediately.
